

Explore what's new with the nursing, midwifery and allied health professionals (NMAHP) development framework

Website makeover:

Our website has been updated to make it easier for you to find the information you need, when you need it.

Updated content:

All content has been updated to reflect contemporary evidence and what matters to you in practice.

Development needs analysis tools for everyone:

Want to better understand your strengths and learning needs? We now have development needs analysis tools for all levels of the career framework.

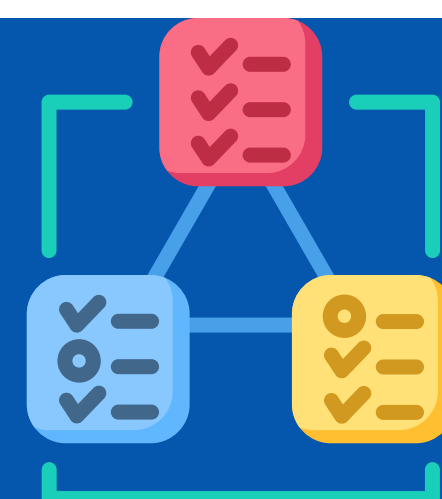

Improving access:

The NMAHP development framework is now more user-friendly and accessible for everyone.

Links to speciality frameworks:

To help you to identify the link between the NMAHP development framework and other speciality frameworks, we have included these on our website.

Start your development journey by accessing the framework at:
www.nmahpdevelopmentframework.nes.scot.nhs or by scanning the qr code:

